WILL ABANDON FORT CLARK

San Antonio, Texas, May 13.—Historic Fort Clark on the Rio Grande border near Spofford Junction will soon be abandoned. One by one the army posts along the Mexican border have been abandoned. Fort Brown and Fort Ringgold have already been abandoned and it is thought in army circles that Fort Bliss and Fort McIntosh will be maintained by small garrisons and all the other border posts abandoned.

Since the acquisition of the Philli-pine Island and other colonial possessions a large percentage of the army is kept on duty abroad, and it is now the policy of the government to mobilize troops near large cities and to abandon the smaller stations.
There is a saving in expense and a gain in power and concentration quickly.

This abandonment of the posts on the Rio Grande is eloquent testimony

DAUGHTERS CONFEDERACY

Chattanooga, Tenn., May 13.—The annual State convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy began in this city today, with headquarters at the new Hotel Patten. All of the local chapters throughout Tennessee have sent delegates and in point of attendance the convention is one of the best ever held by the State organization.

to the change in conditions on the Texas border; formerly the border was the resort of ruffians and brigands of every description, and a small sized army was necessary to keep order. The Texas Rangers and the secret service men of the customs service, together with growing civilization have combined to wipe out these worthies completely.

PHONES 111 & 179

Entered at the Postoffice in Bryan, Texas, as second class matter.

BY CARNES & WALLACE

BRYAN, TEXAS, MAY 14, 1908.

Uncle Joe Cannon is a master in the art of how not to do it.

Congress is too busy killing time to stop to take any action in regard to the paper trust.

It is only by giving the whole of her mind to it that the ordinary woman can manage a Merry Widow hat.

In second thought it appears plain that Harry K. Thaw could never have made a reputation in any other way.

In view of Secretary Taft's gaudy proclivities would he, if elected president, stay in his place and attend to the business?

TO SAVE COUNTRY'S RESOURCES.

Washington, D. C., May 13.—When President Roosevelt called to order the session of the great White House conference at 10 o'clock this morning there was gathered in the east room of the executive mansion the most notable assemblage of men in the public eye that has ever met in the history of the United States.

The governors of nearly all the States of the Union were present, and each was accompanied by three advisers, carefully chosen from among the learned of his state. Besides the governors and their advisers, representatives of all the important national organizations, the welfare of which depends in greater or less degree upon natural resources, were in attendance, and, further, there were present many members of Congress and the official heads of various departments of the government.

The opening address of President Roosevelt and of other leading participants occupied the greater part of the initial session. No set programme has been prepared for the subsequent sessions of the conference, which will continue over Thursday and Friday.

The range of subjects to be discussed covers the entire programme of national conservation. Preservation of existing forests and reforestation of lands at present producing nothing, storage of surplus waters, inland water ways, irrigation, conservation of minerals and the prevention of waste in mining, relation of water ways to transportation and the relation of railways to water lines of carriage, prevention of floods and their consequent destruction of life and property, care of the range lands of the west—the re-grazing and proper utilization—these are a few of the grand divisions of the questions to be exhaustively discussed by the conference.

Turning to land resources, the delegates will be shown how soil is being impoverished by improper cultivation, and especially by erosion. This matter of erosion will be gone into very deeply. Not only will the direct loss to agriculture be explained, but the delegates will consider the indirect losses due to the scouring channels, the deposition of debris on bottom lands, the building of sandbars and the diversion of streams.

GOLF CLUB PRELIMINARIES.

The Golf Club preliminaries played yesterday according to the matches published in The Eagle a few days since, resulted yesterday in a victory for Moore, Willis, Massingill, Smith, Lawrence, Waldrop, Saunders, and Jno. S. Cavitt. These will pair in the consecutive order named and play the finals. The contests were much enjoyed.

CONFERENCE BEGINS.

Noted Men at White House to Discuss Important Matters.

Washington, May 13.—The white house was the scene Wednesday of an assembly of many of the most distinguished figures in the political and industrial life of the nation. It was perhaps one of the most notable gatherings that has ever met to consider a great public question in that historic mansion.

The occasion was a conference by President Roosevelt with the governors of practically all the states and territories to consider the broad question of the conservation of the country's natural resources. The conference is to continue through Friday. Men who know how the natural resources of the country have been wasted, captains of industry who have dealt with these resources and experts who studied conditions told of the nation's prodigality in exploitation and consumption of its national resources.

Representing the government was the president of the United States, vice presidents, cabinet, justices of United States supreme court and members of both houses of congress. The states are represented by their chief executives and conferees appointed by them. The industries are represented by Andrew Carnegie, James J. Hill, John Mitchell, and Dr. I. C. White, state geologist of West Virginia and an expert on coal. Specially invited guests included Hon. W. J. Bryan, Judge George Gray of Delaware and Governor Johnson of Minnesota.

The president made public his letter inviting the governors of the states to attend the conference. In this communication the president declared there was no other questions before the nation of equal gravity with the question of the conservation of the country's natural resources.

The president received the governors and shortly thereafter all assembled in the east room. The conference was opened by the president with an address on "Conservation as a National Duty."

First day's programme included addresses by Andrew Carnegie on "Ores and Related Minerals," and by Dr. White on "Mineral Fuels."

Hon. John Mitchell led the general discussion on coal mining.

An almost complete transformation of the east room was effected. Along the east wall was placed a combined framework and platform fifty-two feet long and nineteen feet high. This was artistically covered with green velvet, trimmed with gold rope. This framework was the setting for two giant maps of the United States, each of which is colored to graphically show the various resources of the country. The governors occupied seats of honor just in front of the platform. Other conferees and delegates were seated in the order of their arrival at the meeting.

"BLACK HAND" FOILED.

Unsuccessful Attempt Made to Blow Up a Residence.

Columbus, O., May 13.—The "Black Hand" made an unsuccessful attempt early Wednesday to blow up the residence occupied by Italian fruit dealers, Agostino Iannario and brother, on Mount Vernon avenue. Iannario said he received "Black Hand" letters about a month ago demanding $10,000. Later letters were received demanding $2,000 and threatening to blow up his home. No person was injured, although the house was partially wrecked.

Austin, May 13.—Assistant Attorney General Lightfoot says that no action is to be taken toward filing suits to cancel any of the contracts made with book companies found by his report to be trusts or affiliated with trusts until after the textbook board meets and considers the report, which is on May 18. It is said some bookmen intend to contest the matter to the end. The attorney general has filed a motion for a rehearing in the court of civil appeals in the railroad commission case to require the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railroad to operate double daily passenger train service over the Victoria division.

The congregation in the tent yesterday morning was the largest that has yet attended any day service and the number who participated in the devotional exercises was greater than heretofore. Everybody or nearly everybody joined in the singing, and better congregational singing is rarely ever heard. Dr. Butler's subject was prayer, and with all the force and earnestness of his intense nature he spoke of the blessed privilege of communing with God and the bliss which comes only with the divine favor. Dr. Butler urges all christians to unite in praying and working for the success of this meeting.

POTATO SHIPMENTS FRIDAY.

Cottonwood and Harris School Communities Will Have Two Cars Ready for Buyers in Bryan Friday.

Mr. J. D. Castle of Tabor was in the city yesterday and informed the Eagle that farmers of the Cottonwood and Harris School communities will market two carloads of Irish potatoes in Bryan Friday. They have arrangements for some buyers and would be glad to have prices from others on that day. They desire to sell on the track in Bryan.

The Eagle would like to see every encouragement offered farmers on this occasion in order not only to reward them for their labor and enterprise, but to encourage diversification in the county and induce others to try it. Diversification and stock farming are as necessary to the prosperity of the county and the town as well, and the people of Bryan should lose no opportunity to aid the farmers in obtaining the highest prices for their truck as well as field products.

MEDIAEVAL PAGEANT REPRODUCED.

Berlin, May 13.—The Emperor and Empress, attended by a large retinue, today were present at the mediaeval pageant held to mark the opening of the reconstructed fortress of Hobkoenigsburg. The ancient keep, which lies in the heart of the Vosges Mountains, was first built by prince of Austria, changed hands many times during the thirty years' war, and finally came into possession of the neighboring town of Schlestadt, which gave it to Emperor William. The latter had it rebuilt in its original condition under the direction of the Berlin architect, Bodo Ebhardt.

CHINESE SWEEP AWAY.

One of the Worst Disasters In That Country.

THOUSANDS ARE CORPSES.

Without Warning a Huge Tidal Wave or Bore Sweeps Down a River and Death, Ruin and Horrible Scenes Are the Attendant Results.

Seattle, Wash., May 13.—News of one of the greatest disasters China has ever known, a sudden tidal bore in the Yangtsienlang river which involved a loss of nearly 10,000 lives at Hangkow, was brought by the steamer Titan. The bore was twenty-six feet in height and flooded without warning down the river, over which hung thousands of junks, sampans and small boats, and wrecking some large river steamers.

Some 3,000 Chinese were sleeping in sampans and small craft and mat sheds and huts by riverside at Hangkow and they were enveloped by great wave, which swept broken junks, splintered sampans and heterogeneous mass of debris, with swarms of drowned Chinese mixed with the wreck.

The scenes for many days after the disaster was horrible, the river banks being strewn with dead and debris of wrecked craft for many miles.

He Ever Promised One.

Laporte, Ind., May 13.—Mrs. Gun-ness' hired man, Ray Lamphere, vigorously denied that he made any confession or promised any to Rev. E. A.
Schell or anyone else.

Officials of the three Laporte banks held a conference to determine the most effective way to aid the authorities in untangling the murder mysteries. It was decided the First National bank of Laporte, the Citizens' Saving bank and State Bank of Indiana should furnish a list of all transactions in which Mrs. Guinness paid out, deposited or received money. With a complete list of this kind Prosecutor Smith expects to be able to secure valuable information.

INVIOLENT SECRET.

Clergyman Does Not Charge Lamphere
With Murder of Children.

Baltimore, May 13.—Rev. Dr. E. A.
Schell of Laporte Ind., who is attending the Methodist general conference, in talking about the Guinness farm tragedy, denied that he said Ray Lamphere helped kill the Guinness children, but took no part in slaying any of the men except Helgelein.

"I made no statement regarding this or any detail of my interview with Lamphere except to say Lamphere's communications to me are wholly privileged, and unless he shall himself make statements to the prosecuting attorney they will be maintained as an inviolable secret."

Mr. Schell added, like many others, that he believed Mrs. Guinness is alive, but he has no knowledge of the fact.
It is merely personal opinion.

shot to death.

JNO. C. VICK MILLING FEED, GRAIN

The reason home ground meal is giving such satisfaction to all who have tried it is corn is classified into four reductions, viz: Corn starch, corn flour, bolted meal, and bran. Corn starch and corn flour is the nutritious part of the grain which is extracted. Bolted meal is the flint part. Home ground mea you get it all and get it fresh. We make our own chops from best shelled corn in car lots. The advantage in freshness and purity is obvious without further comment.

Bring your corn and have it ground into chops or meal, and let me sell you feed stuff.
